Hostess Teenie Hayworth and Bill Clabough at the FLC's Summer Celebration at her Penrose Farm.

■ The rain held off and the pearly skies did not deter the Foothills Land Conservancy (FLC) from celebrating another successful year at its annual Summer Celebration recently. Hosted at Christine "Teenie" Hayworth's Penrose Farm, guests at the event enjoyed the beautiful gardens and pastures while dining on catering provided by Holly's Eventful Dining and drinks by Pour Guys.

The Summer Celebration gave attendees the opportunity to visit with other FLC supporters and applaud their work over the last year. Guests had much to celebrate as this is the third consecutive year of record-breaking achievement represented by more than 11,000 acres protected due to their efforts. There was no formal program, and attendees were encouraged to continue to socialize after FLC's executive director Bill Clabough welcomed the crowd and briefly outlined the group's successes, programs and plans for future projects. All funds raised over the course of the evening will go toward FLC's mission to protect and preserve East Tennessee and our Great Smoky Mountains.

FLC board of directors attending the celebration included Ernie Blankenship, Madge and Barry Cleveland, Jenny Freeman, Jenny Hines, board president Mark King, Billy and Karen Minser and David Zandstra. Other FLC properties foundation members that were in attendance were Steve Arnett, Terry Chervenak, Mark and Mary Jendrek and Bob and Nancy Van Hook. Other attendees were Jeff Fletcher and Julie Huster, Sherri Lee, Victor and Joan Ashe, Sara Penegar, George
